F  Special instructions regarding the payment of criminal monetary penalties:

While serving the term of imprisonment, the defendant must make installment payments toward restitution and may do so through the Bureau of Prisons' (BOP) Inmate Financial Responsibility Plan (IFRP). Pursuant to BOP policy, the BOP may establish a payment plan by evaluating the Defendant's six-month deposit history and subtracting an amount determined by the BOP to be used to maintain contact with family and friends. The remaining balance may be used to determine a repayment schedule. BOP staff will help the defendant develop a financial plan and will monitor the defendant's progress in meeting his restitution obligation.

During the defendant's supervised release term, the defendant will make payments toward any restitution by paying not less than the greater of $200.00 per month or 10% of defendant's gross monthly earned income, payable on the 15th of each month, towards the outstanding restitution as directed by the Probation Department, to commence within 30 days after the defendant is released from custody. The collection of amounts unpaid after the defendant has completed supervised release will be administered by the United States Attorney's office's collection unit, and the defendant's payments will be made to the Clerk of this Court for disbursement to the victims. The Government may use the judgment collection mechanisms available under the applicable law with respect to any remainder outstanding after the supervised release period has terminated. The Government is encouraged to engage in post-supervision period collection activities in a manner not inconsistent with the defendant's ability to provide reasonably for the needs of the defendant and his dependents.

Unless the court has expressly ordered otherwise, if this judgment imposes imprisonment, payment of criminal monetary penalties is due during the period of imprisonment. All criminal monetary penalties, except those payments made through the Federal Bureau of Prisons' Inmate Financial Responsibility Program, are made to the clerk of the court.

The defendant shall receive credit for all payments previously made toward any criminal monetary penalties imposed.
